

Zucchini Bread Pancakes

The Smitten Kitchen

Ingredients

2 large eggs
3 tablespoons olive oil
2 tablespoons light brown, dark brown or granulated sugar
1/4 cup buttermilk or 2 tablespoons each of milk and plain yogurt, whisked until smooth
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 cups shredded zucchini (from about 9 ounces whole, or 1 1/2 medium zucchini), heaping cups are fine
1 cup all-purpose flour (half can seamlessly be swapped with a whole wheat flour)
1/4 teaspoon table salt
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/8 teaspoon ground or freshly grated nutmeg
Butter or oil, for coating skillet

Directions

1. In a large bowl, combine eggs, olive oil, sugar, buttermilk and vanilla until smooth.
2. Stir in zucchini shreds. In a smaller bowl, whisk together flour, salt, baking soda, cinnamon and nutmeg.
3. Stir dry ingredients into zucchini batter, mixing until just combined.
4. Preheat oven to 200°F and place a tray — foil lined if you're into doing fewer dishes later — on a middle rack.
5. Heat a large, heavy skillet (my favorite for pancakes is a cast-iron) over medium heat.
6. Once hot, melt a pat of butter in pan and swirl it around until it sizzles.
7. Scoop scant 1/4-cup dollops of batter (mine were about 3 tablespoons each) in pan so the puddles do not touch.
8. Cook until bubbles appear on the surface, about 2 to 3 minutes. Flip pancakes and cook another minute or two, until golden underneath.
9. Transfer pancakes to prepared pan to keep warm as well as ensure that they're all cooked through when they're served.
10. Repeat with remaining batter. Serve warm.
